Congratulations on your engagement!

Thanks so much for considering Love Story for your wedding stationery. Our designs are inspired by a penchant for romance, a love of contemporary design and individual love stories. We always work hard to design exceptional stationery that is within your budget, advising on where to compromise if necessary and where to push the boat out for maximum impact. We work closely with couples to get to know them as individuals, ensuring we can offer relevant and caring advice.

All of our designs are intended to be a basic pattern for you to tailor according to your own love story, personal taste and individual requirements. For this reason, this guide can only ever be that - a guide! You can tailor type and colour of card, style and colour of font, type of folds, formats, embellishments and more...Working with you at your free consultation, we'll help you determine what the best option is for you in terms of your budget and requirements.

All stationery orders require a consultation which is ideally done in person but which can also take place via email or telephone if you are not local to Cheshire/Greater Manchester. It is intended that you will only need one consultation in person and this initial meeting is of course without charge and completely free of obligation. Chatting through your ideas and preferences should be relaxed, enjoyable and productive so you leave the meeting feeling excited and informed.

Hopefully this guide will help to give you an idea of how much your stationery could cost. Of course the more items you order, the more discounts we can offer you and so every quote is done on an individual basis. In this way we can offer you the very best price possible. Should you require any further information about our prices or designs, or if you'd like to get together for a consultation, please do get in touch.

Kind Regards,

*Rachel McKenna

As you can see we have designs and ideas to accommodate a wide range of budgets. This price includes envelopes and RSVPs where they are an integral part of the design. Where the RSVP is a separate card, prices are usually around £1.50 each. Couples sometimes choose to have a more indulgent design for day guests and opt for a simpler design for evening guests.
